Run 1681 – Sir Les – Riverwood

The TM arrived in time (that is a little bit late) to ensure that someone else (the ever reliable Grewsome) had taken control of the map and chalk (and all the responsibility that goes with it)...

The TM (will continue to claim the term even though it was only in a support role this week... however I had relieved Grewsome of the duty of writing this report..... so here it is).....was given a map and the hint of a shortcut from the hare to speed me on my way... with some hope of catching the pack as they were sent on a few early twists in the trail.

And to my delight, I found the pack – walkers and all – at Washington St (which will not mean anything to you unless you have an encyclopaedic (yes I had to check the spelling) knowledge of the streets of Riverwood or you are a TM trying to find a pack).

Cannon and Bower Bird were guiding the younger ones (that is, the whole rest of the pack) on their journey back from an on-back.... QR and Taxing were pondering whether there would be enough white champagne in the bucket now that a few have turned to the red sideGrenade was determined to do her 250th run (a bit over that number actually) in style, Dish was building up her appetite for her pork dish later in the night.

Across the motorway and a few on-backs to keep us together. And then we came to part of the trail where there may be some evidence of who knows what – encroaching dementia in hares, newly found creativity with the ‘no rules’ framework of hash run setting. Let me try to explain for those who did not have the pleasure of experiencing it for themselves....the pack (this is a loosely defined term these days with the numbers down – perhaps better described as a straggly bunch) ventured around McLaughlin Oval (I need to put some local colour in..) and followed trail under the overpass (as opposed to over the underpass).

Blondie was out in front (a fair feat for someone who had played 18 holes of golf earlier that day – are you feeling sorry for her?) until we came to a check that showed arrows in all directions.....Bingo confidently called it as going over the hill (she is turning 60 later this week)....so that Cold Duck had to ask did she actually know the way.....'of course not' was Bingo's reply. After a few spins in circles, the pack headed back the way we had come (under the overpass you may recall)... and the now front-runners (Rabbit and Spini – yes, your eyes are not deceiving you...) spotted a side trail that looked like the hare might have chosen.... and so on to another check.... where Dundee appeared...having run off from the previous check....

The pack embraced the challenge of running in circles and then headed for the boardwalk of Salt Pan Creek where there were arrows galore, reeds and mangroves aplenty and an olifaction (had to look it up) of foul smells (from the mangroves, not the pack). Merkin paused to stretch – it had nothing to do with the fact that a young female local was running nearby....

A few more twists... until the welcome sign to the bucket was spotted – with the back of the pack not far behind including visitors Jim and Mo Mo.

And on a final note.... the hare (and current GM rolled into one) wants it noted that he had intended to stay for a luxurious week at Rover's rather than dashing back to set this fantastic run (usual poetic licence from the editor here)....so make sure you give him the praise he deserves (it is up to you to define it) next time you see him.....

CIRCLE UP!!

Hannibal announced that he had his anniversary yesterday – 19 years of bliss – so he could not imagine what it was like getting to 57 years – so Cannon and Bower Bird were given a down down.

Hannibal then enlightened the circle about Riverwood, by deep and thorough undertaken with some Daily Mirror / Daily Telegraph newspaper headlines. These included:

- Riverwood Death. Man dead after 'angry males' mob paramedics
- Riverwood; 25 year-old stabbed at front door of home.
- Man dies after hit by train while graffitiing at Riverwood
- Man 41 found with multiple stab wounds in his Riverwood home
- $1m of cannabis seized in Riverwood drug bust
- Train delays following fatality at Riverwood
- Riverwood NSW man a multi-millionaire after lotto win

It is always great to learn something about the suburb you are hashing in!

Run Report Summary

Spinifex was asked to provide the run report because she ran it!!! She started with a complaint – why, when there is only one way to go....along the boardwalk....., were there arrows? (editor's note: because you would have complained if there was not).

She was however pleased that she managed to keep in the pack in sight (an implied compliment there to the setting of the run). There was the obligatory poo deposit on the boardwalk with the obligatory circle of chalk around it and the words 'Not mine', presumably by the hare.

Score was 9.5 until one was taken off because it was set in Riverwood (you can't have everything....)

Visitors –We love visitors – Jim from Minnesota (who participated in 2 runs wherever he has been and has not yet been names.), Mo Mo from parts unknown, Slow Gin from Saigon. and Big Ears

Big Ears told us a true story about his issue with generating a new 4 new digits for his new PIN card and implementing a Maxwell Smart sequence on them. Hopefully he worked in out in the end!

Prickette of the Week

Spinifex & Rabbit were nominated by Grewsome for front-running and not letting the rest of the pack catch up to them – and thereby making the pack feel inadequate and sorry for itself.

Bingo was nominated by Duck for standing on Check and still claiming she knew where she was.

Prick of the Week

Sir Les was nominated by Slotcard for cartographical misfeasance - giving Dirty a map of the run that had nothing on it – no start point, no trail. Apparently then Sir Les further exacerbated the situation by handing out 2 different maps to two other different people, that had two completely different trails on them.

Grewsome was also nominated by Slotcard for excessive multi-tasking – demonstrating how to run, walk and talk all at the same time – impressive.

Dundee was nominated Jim (our Visitor) for putting the location of the run in the wrong place – that confused everyone (even himself apparently).

Winners – Bingo & Dundee

LAUGHS FOR THE DAY :)

Careful of Beer :

Yesterday scientists revealed that beer contains small traces of female hormones.

To prove their theory, the scientists fed 100 men 12 pints of beer and observed that 100% of them gained weight, talked excessively without making sense, became emotional, couldn't drive, couldn't think, and refused to apologize when wrong.

No further testing is planned.

AMAZINGLY SIMPLE HOME REMEDIES

- 1. A mouse trap, placed on top of your alarm clock, will prevent you from rolling over and going back to sleep after you hit the snooze button.
- 2. If you have a bad cough, take a large dose of laxatives, then you will be afraid to cough.
- 3. Clumsy? Avoid cutting yourself while slicing vegetables by getting someone else to hold them while you chop away.
- 4. Avoid arguments with the Mrs. about lifting the toilet seat by simply using the sink.
- 5. For high blood pressure sufferers: simply cut yourself and bleed for a few minutes, thus reducing the pressure in your veins. Remember to use a timer.
- 6. Have a bad toothache? Smash your thumb with a hammer and you will forget about the toothache.
- 7. Sometimes, we just need to remember what the rules of life really are: You only need two tools: WD-40 and Duct Tape. If it doesn't move and should, use WD-40. If it shouldn't move and does, use duct tape.
