Back into the northernmost reaches of the Shire, where shire dwellers sometimes line up at the coast to peer across the Georges River to steal a glimpse of the latte-sipping life of the inner dwellers. This was the scene of Dirty's hash run, bucket at the upper car park, dinner at the Crest. It is hard to imagine that life could get any better. We just snuck it in before the threatening clouds and a few splashes of rain had us scurrying back into the pub.

This week – the Trail Setting Tips series – moves on to part 2 (of 2) “How to measure the distance of a run” explores another technique – using GMap pedometer. In 2008 Big Ears put together a “guide to GMap pedometer” – which will be put on the B2H3 website (not included with this trash). Please download it and read it – as it is a wonderful Step-by step guide to measuring the distance of a trail.

Run 1723 – Dirty Weekend - Sylvania

An extract from a street directory with clear fluoro markings of trail, checks and on-backs was the map of choice of the hare. Dundee took a peek at the map....his leg still healing from his steeplechasing past. Time was called....and the runners stormed out into the carpark in search of a hash sign (usually known as an arrow).

The TM called the pack to the main road....as we weaved through the local cars who were jammed into spaces (what were their owners doing there on a Monday night?....they may well ask us the same question). Meanwhile the walkers Dish, Rabbit, Stopcock, Moa, Doc and Bower Bird were strolling out into the night....

Up to the lights and the pattern was set for the night...Grewsome dashing down the first on-back; Cold Duck checking whether TM was following (so he didn't have to waste any energy) and Goon pacing himself by getting hints from the TM (but don't tell anyone...).

No-one was fooled by the next on-back up to highway....Then we stumbled (luckily not literally) on Doublebanger and Hellismellher (note to committees, shorter names would help the run reporter but I guess it is not all about us....) striding (and there was a rumour circulating that Doublebanger broke out into a trot at least once) along the trail....determined as always to do most of the trail.

Blondie led the pack over the footbridge across the highway....and up to the next check. A few more twists before Merkin decided the trail was not for him and he would find his own way in life....the TM called the pack to order (to trail that is) as Bingo called On. A kerb leapt up in front of Joker (that is how he tells the tale) as he crossed the road....and he took a tumble that saw his dignity and leg scrapped but at least the doctors of the Shire could save their stitching string for the next time Dundee takes to the streets....

One check and then another held the pack until eventually the pack found the trail along Port Hacking Road. Up Bellingah Road and then into the netball courts to find an on-back. Sir Les wanted to run through all the girls playing their Monday night netball matches.....we had to call him back as the pack headed to find the trail on Corea Road...and in doing so, cut off a southern loop carefully set by the hare (and her assistant Goldie)...which actually made the run about the right length.....

To a check at Box Road (I only add in street names to increase my word count...and in case any local actually know what I am talking about (and are interested)...and maybe the hare wants to know if the runners went anywhere near their well-set trail....) and the pack opted (wise choice) to keep going along Corea Road.

An on-back hauled the front runners back so Goon could take the lead for the second time of the night. 'There are no parks around here' declared Sir Les as we headed through something very park-looking..

Another couple of turns and we could see the bright lights of the shopping centre. Up to the carpark where Cannon was setting out his chair, Grenade was bravely wearing her Storm colours, Sniffer was telling tales of her adventures far afield and the hare had laid out a feast of nibbles.....

CIRCLE UP!!

Hannibal's daily exercises getting his leg up took precedence this week above performing his usual stellar Circle duties. He picked the right week to miss the circle, as all the hashers were worried that they would soon be inundated and drenched by a threatening thunderstorm and the circle was conducted in Record time.

We look forward to learning some interesting insights about Sylvania – next time we run in this excellent area.

CIRCLE RUN REPORTER- Merkin

Merkin reviewed the run – just as the rain started. The Scribe's pen faltered in the wet conditions, which caused a lot of anxiousness as the lack of writing utensils threatened to impede recording valuable and historical information about the run and reflect poorly on the archiving and documentation of the club. That said, a few scant notes could be deciphered from the wet, soggy paper.

Merkin basically thought it was a very good run on a wet night, and was happy that he had the opportunity to visit his Mum. He mentioned something about seeing Double Bangher on the run – I think he saw him through a gap in the trees and realised that he had started running and was not far behind.

Score awarded to Dirty Weekend – 9.5 /10 !!

PNG Independence Day

No birthdays this week, but we had a down-down to celebrate the PNG Independence Day

PRICK AWARD

- Cold Duck – it seems that every week Cold Duck does something to keep him in front of the judges – with an eye on one of the “Big Prizes” at the AGPU (could that really be?). This week, Duck claimed the he had nothing to do with the setting of the run, and had no idea where it went. Interestingly, however, he didn't run down any on-backs and always picked the right route at the checks. It seemed he really knew something !!

PRICKETTE AWARD

- Grenade – For supporting Melbourne, who let the Raiders beat them on the weekend.

Winners !! – Grenade & Cold Duck

Trail Setter Tools - Step 3 – Working out the Trail Distance (2 of 2)

There are a number of tools that can be used to measure the approximate length of your hash run. In 2008 Big Ears wrote up an excellent document about using the Web tool – Gmap Pedometer. This document has not been included in this trash – but will be inserted on our web page. Please download and read it!! It is an easy way to check the distance of your run.

LAUGHS FOR THE DAY :)

A DAMN FINE EXPLANATION

The wife came home early and found her husband in their bedroom making love to a very attractive young woman. And was somewhat upset.

"You are a disrespectful pig!" she cried. "How dare you do this to me - faithful wife, the mother of your children! I'm leaving you. I want a divorce straight away!"

And the husband replied "Hang on just a minute love, so at least I can tell you what happened."

"Fine, go ahead," she sobbed, "but they'll be the last words you'll say to me!"

And the husband began -- "Well, I was getting into the car to drive home and this young lady here asked me for a lift. She looked so down and out and defenceless that I took pity on her and let her into the car.

I noticed that she was very thin, not well dressed and very dirty. She told me that she hadn't eaten for three days! So, in my compassion, I brought her home and warmed up the enchiladas I made for you last night, the ones you wouldn't eat because you're afraid you'll put on weight. The poor thing devoured them in moments. Since she needed a good clean up I suggested a shower, and while she was doing that I noticed her clothes were dirty and full of holes so I threw them away.

Then, as she needed clothes, I gave her the designer jeans that you have had for a few years, but don't use because you say they are too tight.

I also gave her the underwear that was your anniversary present, which you don't use because I don't have good taste. I found the sexy blouse my sister gave you for Christmas that you don't use just to annoy her, and I also donated those boots you bought at the expensive boutique and don't use because someone at work has a pair the same"

"She was so grateful for my understanding and help and as I walked her to the door she turned to me with tears in her eyes and said, "Please ... do you have anything else that your wife doesn't use?"
