

Convict Trash

Run 1747: 2nd March 2020

Hare: Grewsome - Kirrawee

Starters Gun

Yes I know but, Kirrawee doesn't start with a "G" and it's only a suburb away and if Bingo can mistake Kirrawee for Jannali then Kirrawee for Gynea is less of a problem. Anyway, another good group arrived in the carpark, with a new entrant, Amy, who someone suggested was one of Merkin's children (the one that Brazilian isn't aware of apparently). Amy will be attempting her first marathon, with Merkin, in six months time and was using our run as the start of her training, unaware that it was going to be a bush bash with many steep hills so not a lot of running involved.

Run Report

Grewsome's Gradual Gynea Gradient

As 6:30 arrived and then passed, with everyone still talking and paying no attention, Goon asked where's Bingo and they all looked at their watches and were off. Heading west towards Sutho, the trail then looped back east to the President Avenue crossing, heading east again, with Dundee and Cam in the lead to the first On Back down a lane. The trail was found heading south past the Ringless abode and who was noticed by his absence – here's a bloke who rides his bike to anywhere in the Shire but can't walk a couple of hundred metres from his home.

From a check, through a playing field it became obvious the trail was headed to the National Park and a welcome Bush Bash. Canookie was giggling at the prospect of exhibiting her mountaineering skills but it was Andy, who took the lead into the bush and the first On Back, when his father, following the pack for some reason, called him back. Probably didn't want to show up the old bastards.

Merkin and dog (forgotten his name) had found the trail again and the On Back before anyone else but the Duck and Cam duo sprinted to the lead before another On Back, which had a trail very close and confused the front runners, particularly Dundee (silly old bastard), who ran about 400 metres in the wrong direction. Blondie, meantime, had redirected the slower members, The Bangers, Scotch Mist, Pig, Sir Les et al. Down across a small creek and up towards the steepest bloody hill in the Shire. That'll teach you to miss the run Joker. Dog had broken the leash and was pissed off at having humans in front of him so proceeded to try and knock them all into the creek.

Hitting civilisation again and a check, HISH had found trail up the bloody steep hill and Dundee decided to show someone 66 years his junior how to sprint up bloody steep hills, thereby being beaten and almost dead in the process. Everything from here was up, steps, more steps and a very clever On Back, that nobody, apart from Duck and Cam were interested in checking. Another mad woman's loop, before crossing President Avenue once more and a welcome bucket.

Great run Grewsome, good to see some bush again, Canookie awarded it something that showed maths wasn't her best subject.

On On Anonymous.

Circle Up

Run Review

Grewsome – Kirrawee

Cold Duck called Circle up but failed to mention anything about Kirrawee & called the Run Report.

Run Reporter was Canookie, who talked about zig zags after a late start that allowed her to miss the first loop as the trail headed towards the bush and she started giggling again. Then she said she was lost a few times (she is a woman after all) at On Backs but felt the run kept the pack together and said she was going to take off 1 for being in the Shire and then gave it 9.235 out of 10, which suggests French maths and English maths must be different.

Visitors: Andy, Brazilian, Amy and Trivia (I think that's the dog's name)

Athletes

Pig – 900

Blondie - 850

Birthdays

Cold Duck 86 or something..

Pricks

Nominee	Nominator	'Cause
Canookie	Pig	She can't count.
Rabbit and Short N Curly	Grewsome	Running with the pack but finishing 15 minutes after everyone else.
Stopcock	Goon	Not shutting the gate at the dog exercising site, thereby earning the ire of the dog owners but earning the respect of the dogs. Sometime later it was learned that it was actually a couple of harriettes that left the gate open.

Pricks: Canookie and Stopcock

Christmas in July

More information as it becomes available:

We have booked the Nepean Belle lunchtime cruise for the B2H3 Xmas in July. The lunch time cruise goes for 2 1/2 hours with a 2 course meal. Cash only for the bar. The lunch time cruise is very picturesque. We would then maybe organise a barbecue for dinner. The cost of this is $63 per head with a seniors 😊 discount.

Accommodation is to be organised by the individual at the nearby Leisure Park. Various cabins etc.
