

Convict Trash

Run 1794 – 12th April 2021

Hare: Goldmark – Matraville

Starters Gun

Another Monday evening, another group of eager B2H3 Hashers waiting to take to the streets, and discover what treats the Hare has planned for them.

Run Review by Grewsome

Awesome run, we had a real maze of back alleys and parks, hard to find fault, back and forth, we ran crisscrossing the walkers. Only criticism - there was a slight difference between the actual trail and the map.

Score of 9 ½ out of 10.

RA's Report –

Matraville

- named after James Matra, an American Sailor, who was aboard the good ship Endeavour with Jimmy Cook when it sailed into Botany in 1770

He was born in New York and moved to England when he was young

On the voyage to Australia, he got into a bit of trouble. He was suspected of cutting off the ear of one of Cook's Clerks during a drunken melee.

When he returned to the UK after the Voyage, he proposed to the UK Government, that Botany Bay be used as a convict settlement, which was later adopted (not at Botany Bay, but Port Jackson)

After the Voyage he became the British Consul in Morocco, where he died in 1806 at age 60.

Matraville is also home to Matraville High School, which produced many top sportsmen:

- Josh Addo-Carr
- Boyd Cordner
- Mark Ella
- Russell Fairfax
- Eddie Jones

- Sean Garlick – Garlo’s Pies
- Adam Reynolds
- James Tamou

And former Premier Bob Carr

Average House price: $1.75 Million

Run Report

Goldie’s Glamorous Gallop around Matraville

The pack assembled in the front bar of the Matraville Hotel for one of the year’s first cold nights - I would have thought this cold snap would encourage the H3 brigade to push the pace but there were actually more walkers tonight.

There was a certain familiarity with the early sections of trail as we utilised the network of parks and lane ways off Franklin St - there was a little confusion as we hit the first check at the end of Barwon Crescent and I was a little worried as the pack were checking very close to the home trail - we also seemed to drop the trail as we ran behind the soldiers public school but picked it up again on Lawson St.

The pack were being held close though and as we turned into Clisby Way we came across the ex runners (Pig, Spinni, Goon & Double Bangher) - they stuck with us until we found the check on Lone Pine - Goldie did very well to mark this place less than a week out from ANZAC Day. Dame Nellie found the trail and we followed him through a network of laneways that included Somme & Armentieres.

At this point Dundee was reluctant to check in any direction that was not heading for the bucket and once we hit Pozieres Ave the scent of the bucket became overpowering and everyone made a mad dash any way they could to the bucket.

The run reporter gave a generous score of 9.5/10 for a good run that kept the pack guessing and together.

A great dunny read coming your way again....

I am fully aware that my youth has been spent,
That my get up and go has got up and went.
But I really don't mind, when I think with a grin,
Of all the grand places my get up has been.

My missus packed my bags and as I walked out of the front door she screamed, "I wish you a slow and painful death
you bastard."
"Oh," I replied, "so now you want me to fucking stay."

Mr. and Mrs. Brown had two sons. One was named Mind Your Own Business & the other was named Trouble. One day the two boys decided to play hide and seek. Trouble hid while Mind Your Own Business counted to one hundred. Mind Your Own Business began looking for his brother behind garbage cans and bushes. Then he started looking in and under cars until a policpolice man approached him and asked, "What are you doing?" "Playing a game," the boy replied. "What is your name?" the officer questioned. "Mind Your Own Business." Furious the policeman inquired, "Are you looking for trouble?!" The boy replied, "Why, yes."

A drunk goes to court. The judge says, 'You've been brought here for drinking.'
The drunk says, 'Great. Let's get started.'

As you get older, you've got to stay positive.
For example, the other day
I fell down the stairs.
Instead of getting upset,
I just thought,
"Wow, that's the fastest I've moved in years!"
