

Convict Trash

Run 1797 – 3rd May 2021

Hare: Spinifex – Millers Point

Starters Gun

A run in the City, the first in a year or so, found everyone excited at the prospect, but those who chose to drive in were dismayed to find they had to pay for parking, a rarity in the Hashing world.

It is always lovely coming into the city especially to the Rocks area with its lovely old buildings and great views of the Harbour, the Bridge and the Opera House.

Run Review by DoubleBanger

We started off on a nice run, then we were going up stairs, and up past The Observatory, then down stairs to the Rocks, and around to the new part of Barangaroo for a long stretch, around through the Marina at Cockle Bay and King Street Wharf, back up through town, and up more stairs, through a building, and back here.

Special Event - Hellismeller very excitedly informed us that she had passed her Interpreting Exam for Australian Sign Language. She then proceeded to sign the RA's report as Duck delivered it.

RA's Report –

Millers Point

- Area known as Millers Point – one of Sydney's oldest suburbs
- Area had many windmills not long after Sydney was settled in 1788
- A bloke by the name of John "Jack the Miller" Leighton ran 3 wooden mills in the area, so it was known as "Jack the Millers Point" and then just "Millers Point".

- The wharves at Millers Point became vital during both World Wars, with huge amounts of military equipment and soldiers passing through the Port.
- The Captain Cook Hotel has been here, in one form or another, since 1874, when there were 18 Pubs in the area to look after the many workers on the Wharves, Ship Crews, and the workers in the Mills.
- Only 3 of the original 18 Pubs have survived on their original sites – the Captain Cook, the Lord Nelson and the Hero of Waterloo.
- The Captain Cook Pub nearly burnt down in 1878, only 4 years after it opened. A Harriette living upstairs, dropped a candle while walking up the stairs (pissed) setting curtains alight and then the walls, etc. It was saved by local police walking past.
- Average Unit price $1.7 Million. Couldn't get Average House price, but a House just up in Kent Street recently sold for $2.8 Million.

A blonde and a redhead have a ranch. They have just lost their bull. The women need to buy another, but only have $500. The redhead tells the blonde, "I will go to the market and see if I can find one for under that amount. If I can, I will send you a telegram." She goes to the market and finds one for $499. Having only one dollar left, she goes to the telegraph office and finds out that it costs one dollar per word. She is stumped on how to tell the blonde to bring the truck and trailer. Finally, she tells the telegraph operator to send the word "comfortable." Skeptical, the operator asks, "How will she know to come with the trailer from just that word?" The redhead replies, "She's a blonde so she reads slow: 'Come for ta bull.'"
