Run 1529

“HANNIBAL LECTOR’s TOUR of ROZELLE”

RUN REPORT: A very small pack gathered at the Ruby Hotel. On was called and we headed towards the Anzac Bridge along Victoria Rd. The front runners ran past the crossing at Hartley St. and had to be called back.

After risking life and limb DUNDEE found trail in a lane on the northern side of Victoria Rd. After the lights changed the pack followed on to a check on Starling then into Collins and the second check.

Then it was into Hanover, Mansfield, Evans and a few back lanes and back onto Victoria Rd. Along Victoria for a short distance and into Prospect Lane and out onto Darling St. after a check in National Lane. We crossed over Darling and then Nelson and into Terry St. to an On-back in Norman.

Again DUNDEE was first to find trail down to the waterfront and also find an on-back to the right of the trail. The trail then took us around Bridgewater Park, The Bay Run King Georges Park and up through Rozelle Hospital Park. Along Balmain Rd. for a short distance and into Foucart St. Then Cox St, Denison, Alfred and Elizabeth St. to the bucket.

A good scenic run not enough on-backs, but just right for an after Christmas recovery run.

Circle Report

Hannibal called the rabble to order, which, as usual, made no difference to the noisy throng but allowed him to clear his throat for the astounding information which followed – apparently Rozelle, wasn’t called Rozelle originally but was known as Balmain West (even though it’s really South or at best South West, people who live there think that anything outside the suburb is West). Because the chardonnay swilling lefties who inhabit thought that they shouldn’t have association with those of lesser quality, the suburb was renamed to a more befitting title & due to the parrots, which apparently inhabited in huge numbers, Neville Wran decided to call it Rozelle. Obviously, being a solicitor, he hadn’t learnt to spell, hence it’s weird non de plume – the writer thought it was named after tomato sauce.

Run Report

Dame Nellie was elected to administer the last rites & suggested it was a good run with lots of bush around the harbour, in real parlance it was a track around Parramatta River. He also stated it had lots of houses & streets, which is quite remarkable considering we were in the heart of the inner western suburbs. I think he failed to mention the run around the loonie bin but gave the run 9 out of 10.

Visitors: - Sandra & Peter Dee

Athletes: - None

Birthdays: - Bower Bird – just a bit over 21.

Prickette and Prick nominations

Hannibal was nominated by Sandra Dee for suggesting he would stick it into the chef (presumption is he was talking about the menu order but you never know).

Joystick was nominated by his much better half for not having the strength to extract himself from the TV to attend the run.

Dame Nellie was nominated by QR for getting rope of an awning or something.

Peter Dee was nominated by Pseudo for being beaten by his wife by nearly half a glass in the down down.

Slotcard was nominated by Holeproof for keeping her hole open – think it's called advertising.

Pricks – Slotcard & Hannibal
