Run 1825 – 7TH March 2022

Hare: Dish –Pagewood Hotel

Starters Gun

Well there was no avoiding the rain last night. Dish's run will be a top contender for the wettest run of the year, but we should be thankful that the heavy rain stopped long enough for us to have a Bucket.

Run Review by Grewsome

So on my way to this run coming along General Holmes Drive, I rode my luck and ended up in the wrong lane, so I had to go the long way around, and drove south along Bunnerong Road. It got brighter and brighter. Lasted for 37 minutes, then the rain came down again.

It was a nice run in and out of the side streets, we missed a lot of the On backs, only did one because Tickle got caught across the street. We heard about Duck's nephew playing Rugby at Nagel Park. We were introduced to new places, it was mostly dry for the run then it bucketed down for the final 10 minutes.

Good run. Score 8 ½ out of 10.

RA's Report – Pagewood

- Originally called Monash Gardens after WW1 to honour War Hero, Sir John Monash
- Changed to Pagewood in 1929 to honour Fred Page, the Mayor of Botany at that time
- The Pub opened in 1953, and was known as the “Pagewood Rex Hotel” developed by “Rex Investments”, a division of L.J. Hooker. The Company still operates to this day.
- Across the road was the famous “National Studios”, which opened in 1935, and closed in 1959.
- Some of Australia’s greatest films were shot there – “Summer of the Seventeenth Doll”, “Eureka Stockade”, “Kangaroo”, “Robbery Under Arms” and “Smiley” to name a few.
- Dundee was an extra in the 1936 film “The Flying Doctor” – if you look closely you can see him bonking a Nurse at the back of the plane.
- The area then became a huge Holden manufacturing Plant, Eastgardens Shopping Centre, & WD & HO Wills, making Cancer Sticks. It was a very big site.
- Famous residents include:
  - Kristina Keneally – ex Premier of NSW
  - Les Cowie – Legendary Souths Rugby League Player
  - And others I have never heard of .....
- Average House Price $2.3 Million

Prickette

Duck nominated Scotch Mist - she didn't want to get her hair wet

Prick

Duck nominated Curtseying – didn't want to be the Run Reporter because he is a visitor

Bingo nominated Merkin because he regaled to her about the self closing toilet seat that he had purchased.

Scotch Mist nominated Curtseying for doing a Dundee and crossing the road on a red light, and also for not listening to Grewsome telling him to turn left.
